Teach a Child To Read!

DO YOU:

- enjoy and appreciate children?
- value diversity?
- want to become an elementary school teacher?
- want to influence a young person’s life?
- enjoy reading?
- want to support the public schools?

If you answered yes to one or more of the questions above, please read the following information closely to learn about a special opportunity open to you through CPCC.

According to College records, you may be eligible for financial assistance to attend CPCC. Your award includes the opportunity to hold a paid work-study job.

Most work-study students work 15-20 hours each week on one of CPCC’s six campuses. However, another option for students with good grades (3.0 GPA or higher) is to take a higher-paying work-study position as a reading tutor in a CMS elementary school near uptown Charlotte. You are eligible for this option.

More information about a paid work-study position with CMS:

- You have filled out a FSFA and have received confirmation that you are eligible for financial aid.
- You must be enrolled for the fall semester (minimum 6 credit hours).
- You must submit to a background check and volunteer screening conducted by CMS.
- You must be able to work between the hours of 12:30 and 4:30 pm (times may vary).
- You must provide your own transportation to your assigned elementary school.
- You must submit an additional application and interview with CPCC staff.

- You will learn how to teach children to read through CMS tutor training.
- You will be paid $10 per hour for your work in the schools.
- You will be supervised by a CMS volunteer tutor coordinator.

If you are interested in serving as a tutor in a Charlotte-Mecklenburg public school next year, please plan to attend an informational workshop on Tuesday July 22nd, on CPCC’s Central Campus, Room 220 in the Overcash Academic and Performing Arts Center. If you are planning to attend you must RSVP to Dena Shonts at 704.330.6558 on or before July 21st. If you are interested but you cannot attend this meeting, please call Dena Shonts in the CPCC Service-Learning Center at 704-330-6558 or dena.shonts@cpcc.edu.
